Artist Profile: Dave Butcher

My main subjects are wildlife, portraiture and art nude. I began drawing about 9 years ago and I am self-taught. I used to work offshore in the oil and gas industry as a diver and it was whilst being transported offshore (a trip which was going to take a couple of days) that I found the only book, not in German that was about teaching yourself to draw. Well, I studied about a quarter of the book before abandoning it to do my own thing. Once home on leave, I got down to practising doing graphite pencil drawings and also pen and ink work. I then had an accident offshore which ended my diving career and so concentrated on my artwork once home.
