A part of a collection of paintings to commemorate the Commonwealth Games Men's Cycle Race which took place in Warwick in August 2022.
The cyclists were freewheeling down into Emscote Road and they were literally whizzing by to, cheers and excitement. I loved how the backdrop of Warwicks East gate and the old building provided a traditional background to the race.

Artist Profile: Rupam R Barthakur

I'm Rupam....

I was lucky to be surrounded by art for most of my life. From early memories of my Dad painting huge faces on white sheets as backdrops for a local theatre group, to him always having a canvas or sketchbook on the go. I was hooked. He taught me how the skeleton worked and I've never really lost my desire to capture the figure in motion.

Later on I lived in West Cornwall for several years, surrounded by a vibrant artistic community. I absorbed as much of the methods and approaches I saw, especially of using colour and tonal values. More importantly I was impressed by how art (whether it was painting, writing, film making or acting) was simply a way of life.

Over the last 14 years my studio practice has developed from learning directly from other artists who I admire, to developing my own way of painting.
